

About the Author

Catherine Baird, Ph.D. is an Information Technology executive, specializing in Cloud Solutions, Big Data and IT Managed Services. In 2010, she joined AT&T to lead technology selection, platform architecture and product launches for these emergent divisions.

A pragmatic, original thinker, Baird studied Intellectual History, with a focus on Russian thought and French Personalism, at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, and completed her doctorate in 1998. Since then, she has diversified her experience in business and technology, working as a Director, Architect, Vice-President of Operations, and CIO.

In 2013, Baird converted her 1997 doctoral thesis into Revolution from Within, a narrative nonfiction. A series of related books and articles are also planned.

Baird also began a company called "From Pyramids to Clouds," a place for discussion and discovering connections as people embrace unity and consciousness: a growing, international movement that encourages people to look within themselves, follow their passions and live in harmony.

As time permits, Baird leads classes as an Adjunct Professor in the Computer Information Systems department of the Robinson College of Business at Georgia State University, and participates on the advisory boards of several start-ups and local businesses. Baird lives in Dunwoody, Ga., and can be reached through email, Facebook, Twitter, Google Plus and the book's website, www.rfwthebook.com.
